

Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs
ADDC Convention History

I. History

A desire on the part of Inez Awty Schaeffer, Humble Oil and Refining Company, New Orleans, to meet other women in the Oil and Gas Industry brought together in April, 1949 a group of women to form the first Desk and Derrick Club.

News of the information of the New Orleans Club which appeared in the trade magazines sparked the interest of other women in the Oil centers of North America. In June, 1949, a club was founded in Jackson, Mississippi, followed by Los Angeles, California and Houston, Texas. These four clubs formed the Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs of North America by signing the following ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION in July, 1951:

"KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

The DESK AND DERRICK CLUB OF HOUSTON, the DESK AND DERRICK CLUB OF JACKSON, and DESK AND DERRICK CLUB OF LOS ANGELES, and the DESK AND DERRICK CLUB OF NEW ORLEANS acting through their duly authorized officers, do hereby associate themselves into a group to be designated as the

OF NORTH AMERICA

and do hereby agree upon the following Bylaws to govern the conduct of the affairs of the Association."

The Bylaws thus adopted were ratified at the first Association Convention in 1952, and have been amended and revised as voted by the Clubs at the Annual Association Conventions.

At the 1977 ADDC Convention in Denver, Colorado, the Association name was changed to "ASSOCIATION OF DESK AND DERRICK CLUBS.
